

"Mum can I play Xbox or watch tv?" "No you live on a farm, go and play outside!" Was this you last school holidays? Well no need to fear drones are here. Hi my name is Riley and I'm going to talk to you about why everyone must have a drone.

Don't know what a drone is? How about I tell you... A drone is a remote control helicopter with cameras, videos and claws for picking things up. You might have heard about the police or military using them for secret missions and now they make toy versions for kids. Drones can come in all different shapes and sizes, which is good because there is a size to fit every need. Small as a finger or as big as you - drones can fit anywhere from your pocket to your garage.

Do you get bored a lot? Well not if you have a drone. Drones are fun for the whole family, it can do a lot of things but we will get to that later. And drones are way better than tv! This was even proved on Prime News recently. (I wouldn't have known that if I had a drone because I would be playing with it instead of watching tv).

Has your little brother or sister taken your stuff lately? (well mine has) and they don't get in trouble, but you do. Well now it's time to get them back. If your drone has a claw you can easily get your stuff back by sending it on a mission into your sisters room and grabbing it.

Do you need security at you house? Well your drone can hover around your house while you're out and take a picture of the crook breaking into your house and send him to jail. Even the police use these to catch people who are speeding on the road. So with a drone you feel safe.

Some people these days are saying "the younger generation need to get outside more". Well with your drone you will be begging to go to the park to fly it. And mum will wish she never said that you need to get outside more when you're still at the park 5 hours later!

Drones can even help you in paintball, yes I said paintball. There are some drones that have paintball guns on board and shoot at the enemy team... don don dooon!

Do you think drones might turn on you? Well don't be silly. Drones have a remote just like a remote control helicopter. Because of that, the board and microchips inside it need to be strong to obey the signal from the remote control.

So this is why everyone must have drone... because they help us get outside, keep our house safe, stop us from boredom, get your stuff back, help us in a paintball fight and you know that they will not turn on us. So I bet theres a lot of you out there who would like a drone now

Thank you
